

Opel Vivaro Model year: 2004 With rear air conditioning

Rear climate control works with the ignition switched off

In the case of some of the above-mentioned vehicles, it may be that the air conditioning system can be switched on, with the ignition switched off, by operating the control panel (in the roof of the rear passenger compartment). Vehicles between vehicle identification no.: 4V629450 and 4V630214 may be affected. In this case, a defective harness was fitted at the factory. In case of complaint, this harness must be replaced. An authorized dealer should be contacted for this.
